HRI 2013 Exhibitor Information Sheet

1. Introduction
The HRI Conference is a highly selective annual international conference that aims to showcase the very best interdisciplinary and multidisciplinary research in human-robot interaction with roots in robotics, social psychology, cognitive science, HCI, human factors, artificial intelligence, engineering, and many more. You will have many opportunities to interact with our participants. Take advantage of these opportunities to showcase your offerings to the broadest professional community of human-robot interaction practitioners and researchers and to make new connections with them.

2. Location of Exhibition
